Guiding kids to become CREATIVE CRITICAL THINKERS AND GLOBAL CITIZENS

Preparing for the future

“To live and thrive in the 21st century, today’s children require more than just the ability to operate the tools of the times. They also need to develop the dispositions, knowledge, and skills required to understand the world, to make sense of how a globalized economy shapes their lives, and to consider how they can contribute to a worldwide community.” —Jordan Shapiro, Digital Play for Global Citizens (New York: The Joan Ganz Cooney Center at Sesame Workshop, 2018)

Developing empathy

“Through the interactivity of digital tools, kids can virtually put themselves in other people’s shoes and develop perspective taking.” —Anne Bensfield, Children’s Digital Learning Librarian

Being intentional

“How we engage with our networked world has a huge impact on our lives in both positive and negative ways. Using technology, we can work to be intentional about our place in the world and our relationships with others.” —Naomi Priddy, Multicultural Learning Librarian

Digital meets tangible

Supplement digital learning with tangible artifacts and books from our Multicultural Collection.
